Theodore and Doris Brown

Theodore (Ted) and Doris Brown contributed to Rock County through their volunteer work and leadership activities. As was typical with many civically minded couples, one partner's involvement meant that the other was also intimately involved with a cause.

Ted and Doris showed a deep commitment to many volunteer organizations. Ted was a charter member of the Edgerton Jaycees and a member of the American Legion for 62 years. He was also a member of the Rock County Board of Supervisors for 14 years and served on the Finance, County Board Staff, and Railroad Committees. He quickly distinguished himself as a fiscally prudent decision maker and a knowledgeable source for information on state programs. Doris was a long-time member of the American Legion Auxiliary and was active with her church and the Edgerton community.

Ted and Doris distinguished themselves through leadership activities. In 2000, Ted was presented the Citizen of the Year award by the Edgerton Police Department and in 2001, he was honored as Honorary Citizen of the Year by the Edgerton Rotary Club. In addition, he served as post commander for the American Legion.

Ted and Doris Brown showed a commitment to improve the quality of life in Rock County through their numerous contributions to local causes.
